Gathering As Friends... Growing in Faith... Sharing God's Love

“Each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.” —2 Corinthians 9:7

Built on Faith – Into the Future is the theme of our Capital Fund Appeal. We are a spiritual family, ready to respond to God’s call to share the joy of Christian life. Built on 165 years of faith, we look into the future as we Gather as Friends, Grow in Faith, and Share God’s Love.

Our Built on Faith – Into the Future Appeal is a congregation-wide effort to raise funds to improve our parking facilities and attend to other maintenance projects as we strive to remain good stewards of the church facilities entrusted to us. The proposed parking projects will result in off-street surface parking that will be inviting and welcoming, have lower maintenance costs, will have better lighting, and will provide additional handicap parking spaces and two accessible entrances.

This Appeal is also our opportunity to renew our one-year General Fund commitment in support of our ministries and church expenses in 2014.

Sunday, October 20, will be a special Sunday as we share more about the appeal and pray for God’s blessings for a successful appeal. Members will receive an appeal packet containing the necessary materials to respond. With this packet in hand, we ask members to spend the following weeks praying and considering how God is leading each of us to respond to this appeal. Then, on November 10, Commitment Sunday, we ask everyone to bring their response envelope to worship.

These are exciting times for our congregation. Let us all pray that our Built on Faith – Into the Future Appeal will further energize us as a spirit-filled community as we live out our mission in the world.

World Communion Sunday, October 6

We mark this day as a time that we share with our sisters and brothers in the faith who are also gathering for communion. Offering envelopes will be provided for the church-wide World Communion Offering. Our participation in this Special Sunday is vital to developing United Methodist leaders. Our gifts provide scholarships for graduate and undergraduate students who might not be able to pursue higher education without our support, like Kathy Kyong Kim. At 17 she immigrated to America from Korea. Kathy devoted time to church and developing a strong relationship with God. During the summer of her senior year of high school, she attended a church retreat that changed her life. “I made a solemn vow to God that I would do his work and be a missionary.” With the help of a World Communion scholarship, Kim is pursuing a master of divinity degree from the Claremont School of Theology with an emphasis on religious education. In honor of the world-wide nature of this day, the Chancel Choir’s introit Praise The Lord comes from Cameroon. It is a processional song sung by women for communion. The anthems for this service both come from Jamaica. Shut De Do speaks of Caribbean theology where God is looked at as the salvation for an oppressed people. The light of the candle represented the presence of God and trust that things could be better through faith. The devil was considered to be responsible for their oppression and mistreatment. Alle, Alle, Alle also comes from Jamaica and integrates more traditional scripture in the lyrics of praise. Both anthems will be accompanied with steel drums, the traditional sound of the Islands.

Feel Free to Contact Your Pastors

There are times when people are hospitalized, or have personal concerns or a crisis, and the pastoral staff would like to be supportive. If you or someone you know, goes to the hospital, or needs our care, please feel free to call the church and let us know. Pastor Sue makes hospital visits Tuesday through Sunday, and Pastor Charles makes hospital visits Mondays & some Thursdays. Also, contact the church office and let us know of the names of any home-bound persons who might like a visit. And, if your address changes, we also would appreciate receiving that information. After office hours, you can reach Pastor Sue at 414-257-1228 and Pastor Charles at 262-681-0570.

The resort in northern Minnesota where I spent a restful week in August, holds a potluck every Wednesday noon. The plan is for people to fish for the first few days of the week, and whatever fish you're willing to share—they become the fish that are fried and served at the potluck. It's a great idea, and the best part is that the owners of the resort both clean the fish and fry them! I watched people bring in their catch and dump the fish in a collective live box, having no more responsibility for those fish other than to eat them. What a deal. In addition, all the people in the cabins are invited to bring a dish to share, to accompany the fish. Because I noticed a cake pan in my cabin, I decided on a cake. My cousin and I were headed into Bemidji and I told her I needed to pick up a cake mix. I had in my head something like spice or carrot cake, with cream cheese icing. She suggested one discount store where I knew I wasn't going to find anything very exotic. I was right, my cake choices were chocolate, white, and yellow, and frosting was either vanilla or chocolate—nothing very thrilling, but not expensive. Being the chocolate lover I am, I tended to think chocolate/chocolate, but my cousin quickly said yellow cake with chocolate icing sounded really good. And all of a sudden I was thinking that maybe my left-overs could go to her house.

The day for the potluck arrived and I shared this meal with probably 25 people I pretty much knew nothing about, except to say hello down at the dock and try to question them about good fishing holes—which they were as closed-lipped about as I was. We hailed from Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, carrying in a variety of dishes all the way from pickles to scalloped potatoes. Mine was the only cake—not a fancy one, but it was a hit. (And for anybody that has never tried it before you can mix up a cake without an electric mixer. A wire whisk and a good dose of determination will do the job.) I actually became worried there wouldn't be enough cake for my cousin, since it was her flavor choice, but in the end, I had just enough pieces left to share with all my family, and they quickly disappeared from their kitchen counter.

For me, World Communion Sunday is all about widening our table. On this day we are mindful of this sacrament being celebrated by Christian people throughout the world. This year, I'd like to invite us to think about sharing our table in another way—with the children from our Sunday School. Typically our children are in class while we are in worship, and because Communion is traditionally at the end of the service, they aren't with us to share around the table. I've had some conversation with staff, some church leaders and parents, to propose that once a quarter we move Communion to the beginning of the service. The children will have the opportunity to be present for the meal before they head off to Sunday School. We are going to try this on October 6th.

I want families to know ahead of time, so that if in your family a child doesn't receive this sacrament until they are confirmed, you can be the monitor on whether your child will take Communion. Do know that the traditions of this congregation and of the United Methodist Church are supportive of whatever decision parents choose to make. We also are supportive of children partaking of the bread and juice. From my perspective, as long as children know this is a special meal we share because Jesus shared it with his disciples—people he greatly loved. And every time we share this meal, we remember him and his love for us. When a child starts to ask about what we are doing on these Communion Sundays, these simple explanations may be good places to start the conversations. (And if your child would like conversation with me about Communion, I'd be very open to that.) I once had someone say to me that children shouldn't take Communion until they fully understood what it means. I knew what they were trying to say, but I countered with, "Well if that's the case, then probably none of the rest of us would be taking Communion either." There is always going to be a mystery about this meal. In my experience, that mystical aspect of the sacrament may be a strong reason for including people of all ages, races, and nations at the table.

Country & Folk Sunday - October 20th

"All music is folk music; I ain't never heard a horse sing a song." —Louis Armstrong

Music stirred by history and heritage will fill the sanctuary and lift your spirits as we celebrate our 2nd Annual Country & Folk Sunday! Agape and Chancel Choir will team up to bring you Journey of Hope and Promise by Joseph Martin, which comes from The Song Everlasting, Cantata of Early American songs. The songs integrated in the work come from both Shaker tradition and the Southern Harmony shape-note tradition. We also welcome back the Hawthorne Hills Bluegrass Band. They will share Hold to God's Unchanging Hand, the spirit of this Bluegrass tune is expressed in the last line of the chorus, "Build your hopes on things eternal, hold to God's unchanging hand." Join us as we journey through three chords and the truth!

All Saints Observance Sunday, November 3

November 1st is All Saints Day, the day the church sets aside to remember those who have died, especially those from our fellowship and families, during this past year. We will be observing All Saints Day and communion, on Sunday, November 3. Persons are invited to bring to worship the names of people who have been a part of their life, who have died since last November 1. During the prayer time, people will be invited to share those names. Or, if you prefer, there will be a basket in the entryway of the church to submit names before each service, so they can be read aloud. During worship, candles will be lighted remembering all those persons whose names are shared. The Chancel Choir introtit will bring traditional lyrics to a new melody with brass accompaniment creating a dance-like feel. The anthem, Dwell in the Light Forevermore was in process of being composed by Lloyd Larson when the Sandyhook Elementary School shooting took place. The poem is based on Revelation 22:5. It is Larson's hope that people will find comfort in this piece. The final piece is Omnia Sol which we premiered last year. The text lends English with Latin text and has a beautiful brass accompaniment.

Church T-Shirts Coming Soon

Our 165th anniversary year is a good time to offer church T-shirts. A number of people have asked for an updated version, so a new one is being designed. Orders must be in by September 29. There are order forms in the church office and in the bulletins. Orders will be taken after each service in Fellowship Hall, where there is a sample shirt. Delivery will be sometime in October.

Sunday School

We currently have a few openings for teachers on a few of our teaching teams (including 5K/1st grade and 2nd/3rd grade). Volunteers lead class approximately once a month. Lesson plans are easy to follow and are available well in advance. If you are available to join a team, please contact Natalie.

Children's Christmas Musical Save the Date

We are once again looking forward to the children and young people of our church sharing their talents with us on December 15 at the 9:45am service. This year's musical offering will be "The Reluctant Innkeeper." Our children's choirs are beginning their rehearsals. If your son or daughter would like to be in the musical, please make sure they are attending choir rehearsals by the end of September.

Book Discussion

Pastor Sue's next book discussion book will be "The Light Between Oceans" by M. L. Stedman. If you would like to share in our discussion, we will meet in the east end of Fellowship Hall on Sunday, October 27, at 11am. (This book is now available in paperback, and there are a number of copies in the county library system.) Here's an overview of the book: After four harrowing years on the Western Front, Tom Sherbourne returns to Australia and takes a job as the lighthouse keeper on Janus Rock, nearly half a day's journey from the coast. To this isolated island, where the supply boat comes once a season, Tom brings a young, bold, and loving wife, Isabel. Years later, after two miscarriages and one stillbirth, the grieving Isabel hears a baby's cries on the wind. A boat has washed up onshore carrying a dead man and a living baby. Tom, who keeps meticulous records and whose moral principles have withstood a horrific war, wants to report the man and infant immediately. But Isabel insists the baby is a "gift from God," and against Tom's judgment, they claim her as their own and name her Lucy. When she is two, Tom and Isabel return to the mainland and are reminded that there are other people in the world. Their choice has devastated one of them.

2013 CROP Hunger Walk

It is time to plan for the 2013 CROP Hunger Walk. The CROP walk is an event where people of different faith communities, cultures, and ages come together to raise awareness and funds for local, state, country, and international hunger. The walk will be held on Sunday, October 13, at Milwaukee's Lakefront (McKinley Marina). Registration begins at 12:30 pm and the walk begins at 1:30 pm. There are two different distance options, 2 miles or 5 miles. We usually choose the 2-mile route. This event is great for all ages! WAUMC has participated the last few years and would like to gather more participants this year. Car pool arrangements can be made if you'd prefer. If you'd like to participate, please contact Natalie. If you are unable to participate, please consider sponsoring the team with a monetary donation or a donation of non-perishable food items to be donated to the Hunger Task Force.

A Message from the Bishop

I ask you to join me in prayers for the people of Syria and the current dilemma faced by our national and world leaders. Daily we are reminded of the loss of life and terrible violence in this war torn nation. Certainly, the world cannot simply ignore this terrible tragedy.

As United Methodists, our denomination has clearly stated that we stand in strong opposition to all chemical and biological weapons and indiscriminate killing. And, our United Methodist Social Principles reject war as an instrument of national foreign policy. There is no easy answer to the questions of what, if any, response the United States should make. Jesus Christ is a true peacemaker, and his teaching clearly calls His people to be peacemakers. We pray for the President and members of the U.S. Congress who, along with other world leaders, are seeking to find the best possible peaceful response to the ongoing violence and loss of human life.

As your Bishop, I believe God calls us to pray, but also to work for peaceful and just solutions. We know from past experience how dangerous, and often ineffective, it is to respond to violence with more violence. I ask you to pray and to encourage elected leaders to advance every effort to find a nonviolent solution, working with those nations who are close neighbors to Syria, and other world leaders, to end the violence as quickly and peacefully as possible.

News From Troop 21

It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas!

Yes, it's hard to believe but the Troop 21 holiday wreath sale will be under way in the last week of September. The profit from the Troop 21 holiday wreath sale pays all the expenses for Troop activities for the next year. Scouts also receive a significant part of the profit from their individual sales for their summer camp costs. To purchase a Scout wreath, contact Troop 21 and WAUMC members: Caleb Vollmers, Cory Vines, Malcolm Gregory, Jack Gregory, Ben Rinzel, Dylan Lennie, Miles Phillips, Jack Phillips, Liam Phillips, Foster LaGrange, or Max Hawthorne, if they don't contact you first. Wreaths ordered from Troop 21 will be available and delivered in the last week of November.

Eagle Scout #164 Awarded

Troop 21 awarded our 164th Eagle Scout Award recently. Paul Gagne has received National BSA approval and is now officially an Eagle Scout. Paul is a Sophomore at Wauwatosa East High School. He is the son of Donna and Ken Gagne of Wauwatosa. For his Eagle Scout Service Project, Paul landscaped and restored a secure outdoor patient-use courtyard at the Milwaukee County Mental Health Complex. And even more Eagle news is in Troop 21's future. There are now 8 Scouts in the final stages of earning Eagle and they will complete it in the next year.

WAUMC Community Coffee House

Save the date! Saturday, November 16, 7:00 to 9:00. Our Community Coffee House Concert Series returns for its 3rd season. On select Saturday evenings, local artists share distinctive music that tells stories, builds faith, and creates community. All donations directly benefit WAUMC missions and are open to the public, so bring a friend. We are currently in the final stages of securing and scheduling artists and acts for this season. Proposed appearances currently include Red Letter Edition, The Radio Rosies, Hawthorne Hills Bluegrass Band, WAUMC Open Mic Night, BtW, 'Fesser Hurst and his Windy Hill Wizards, and much more. Future dates include January 25 and March 22. We are currently planning a special ticket only event, currently in negotiations, for May or June! Contact Tim Karth or Bill Armstrong for more information.

Your Online Church Directory Profile

For those persons who don't have access to a computer, use your hard copy church directory for reference.

For those of you who have access to a computer, please take time to update the profile for each member of your family. This will help church members begin to connect with others of similar interest or background.

If your family profile has more than one name under your photograph, you will need to add each member individually and add any member of your family that isn't listed. If you are the only member in your family, skip step 4.

1. Follow the directions in the letter you received to log on to your family's profile.
2. Click on "My Profile" in the upper left side of your screen.
3. Click on "edit" under your family name. Add or edit information for your profile.
4. Scroll near the bottom and click on "Add another member" for any family member that isn't listed individually. Enter their name and relationship. Then click on "save."
5. Enter each family member's activities, interests, etc. by scrolling to the very bottom of the page (when you're in edit) to "Additional Member Info" and click on "here." Click on the family member's name that you wish to enter or change information. To select multiple items in a category, hold the Ctrl button and select the occupation/activities/interests by clicking on them with your mouse. Be sure to click on "save" after editing each family member's profile.

Once you're all updated, do a search to find members with similar interests or backgrounds. If you have questions or misplaced the letter with your user name and password, call Jodie Hunt at 414-453-0700, ext. 23.
